Getting ahead with good looks...

|| New eye-catching cover

|| Highly visible title strip

Travel Publishing have relaunched the Country Living Rural Guide series with a contemporary new look on the cover and preliminary pages. The re-design will ensure that the Country Living Rural Guides compete effectively in what has become a fiercely competitive market for UK travel guides.

The re-design significantly improves the appeal, readability and accessibility of the guides as well as ensuring that they stand out on the retail shelf. We researched the appeal of several alternative designs on Travel Publishing's Facebook page and there was an overwhelming response for the new design which was described as both 'eyecatching' and 'bold'. Country Living Magazine particularly liked the attractive "postcard feel" of the covers.

The Hidden Places series is a collection of easy to use, soft-back travel guides, printed in full colour, covering the British Isles through both national and regional titles which explore counties and major tourist areas in a relaxed but informative way. The guides are packed with information on the more secluded and less well-known visitor attractions and include details of places to eat, stay and drink as well as covering the more established places of interest. New editions of The Hidden Places guides are normally published every two years.
